Yes please! I really like the concept of this coloring book because it's a little different than the other ones I've used. The choice of verses are great--all of them are from the King James Version of the bible, which is a version that reminds me of churches with stained glass windows. In terms of use, there are many pros and a few cons. There are 35 pages to color, which is awesome. It has a simple layout--there is a design and a verse on each page. I wish the verses were on the top of the page rather than the bottom because it seems like it would be easier to read and meditate on the verse while coloring if that were the case. While coloring, I noticed that the lines on each design are a bit on the thinner side. That's not a big deal if you don't mind intricate drawings. But I prefer a little bit easier coloring pages--so some of these designs are too intricate for my taste. I don't consider that a con more so a style of coloring. I prefer to use brush pens and these are harder to color with those. I found coloring with gel pens or sharp colored pencils to be the better medium for this style. Overall, I really like this coloring book and would recommend it! Key Points: -Lots of pages to color -Reminds me of mandalas and stained glass windows -Love the bible verses but wish they were at the top of the page--it would be easier to read as you color -The lines on the drawings are slightly thin which makes the medium you use important in order to *Please note that I was provided a copy of the coloring book for free in exchange for writing a review based on my own opinions. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Slow down, take a deep breath, and relax your mind as you color to your heart's content while meditating on God's Word. This book contains 35 radial designs, inspired by the beautiful stained glass rose windows that grace old Christian cathedrals. Each design is accompanied by Scripture from the King James Version of the Bible. Some designs are intricate, and others are more simple, so you will be sure to find many that suit your level of expertise, your mood, as well as your busy schedule.
