Eduardo N Tavares : Street Scenes and Architecture - Colouring for grown-ups before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Street Scenes and Architecture - Colouring for grown-ups:

Join the millions of grown-ups around the world that are rediscovering the joy of simple stress relieve that colouring provides. Have a relaxing journey while colouring these 30 unique images of exotic places and architecture photographed during Eduardos travels in Canada and the United States. The images in this book are composed of line artwork and shaded areas, which adds to the overall look of a complete art piece after colouring. Enjoy.

About the Author Eduardo Tavares is a full-time contemporary digital artist, fine art photographer and author living and traveling in North America in an RV, with his wife and two furry friends. He specializes in computer manipulated photographic artworks, using a combination of textures and special effects, as well as digital oil and watercolor paintings that resemble real paintings. He loves creating line artwork and picture books from his photos for adults and children to enjoy.
