I can remember doing all different things with crayons when I was a little girl - and that was 70 years ago. The author has such a beautiful way with words. She made crayons come alive again for me.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. The Art of CrayonBy Kimberly BibleThe Art of Crayon is an exceptional read. The layout is exquisitely done. I like the various artist opinions, each artist gives minute instructions by wonderfully detailing how to do the project. I am well-pleased how the author interviewed each featured artist in her book to learn their unique techniques. This book is a must read for the artist who wishes to expand upon their art.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. It's okay...By PaperPixelsThis book is just okay, in my view. Some of the art is lovely, but just not what I expected, which I guess was more step-by-step demos. Books that serve as mostly a showcase for others' art are nice to look at for inspiration, but wasn't what I thought this one would be.

Create astonishing artwork with crayons! Crayons aren't just for kids anymore! Sculptors use them whole, bundling thousands of crayons to create environmental and installation-size sculptures. Carvers pierce and reshape crayons with scalpels, turning them into mini totems, helixes, and portrait busts. Landscape and still-life artists layer crayon shades in works on paper that rival paintings in their subtlety and depth. What will you do?! The Art of Crayon will guide you through a gallery of works by contemporary artists who use crayons as a diverse and dynamic medium. Each chapter includes a specific style of crayon artwork, complete with engaging projects from author Lorraine Bell to help you learn different techniques. From sculpture, to carving, to melted wax and drawing, you'll soon become a master crayon artist!

About the Author Mixed-media artist Lorraine Bell resides in Windermere, Florida on the Butler chain of lakes. A painter, sketcher, traveler, and writer, she combines her passions to create illustrated art journals bursting with images and inspirations from her adventures on the road. Lorraine has been involved with the art industry for over twenty-five years. As the owner and manager of an art-supply store in the Cayman Islands for ten years, she hosted events that focused on the talents of local artists. She is the owner of Serendipity Studios and one of the four members that make up the collaborative team Art to the Fifth. She created a visual calendar/journal that is the inspiration for The Documented Life Project, a year-long undertaking that encourages the concept of visual and written chronicles.
