Howard Tibbals, the Circus KingBy CustomerHaving visited Ringling Bros Circus Museum twice and thoroughly enjoyed the experience, I was very pleased to be able to buy this book. This spectacular display has to be seen to be fully appreciated, it is absolutely entrancing. You are there, in the queue, clutching your candy and your ticket for the biggest show on earth - a true three-ring circus. No detail is missed, to the tiniest tools in the Blacksmith's tent, and the food on the plates of the crew in their dining marquee. We visited from the UK and wished we had taken our grandchildren, they will never get the chance to witness the thrill of the wild and exotic animals, the amazing side shows and the sheer size of the whole enterprise. The book is a wonderful aid to happy memories. Thank you Mr. Tibbals for sharing your passion!

Paperback published by The John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art in 2008. The Howard Bros. Circus Model, built by Howard Tibbals, is the world's largest miniature circus. Covering over 3,800 square feet, it is a replica of the Ringling Bros. Barnum Bailey circus under tent.
